That's a wip for downloading videos from courses. Use at your own risk (Download compiled version and run it: node ./linkedin-learning-downloader.js Or run it from source by cloning the repo: git clone cd linkedin-learning-downloader Install dependencies: npm i Run it from source: npm run start Build it from source: npm run build As of yet, requires entering csrf-token and cookie from current session for authentication. Obtaining the csrf-token and the cookie Open dev tools and navigate to a page from the course you want to download and on the XHR tab find a request that has cookie and csrf-token, these are the ones you need to paste to download videos: Storing the csrf-token and the cookie If you plan to download multiple courses, it might be inconvenient to copy-paste the tokens all the time, so there is a way to save them. You can save the cookie as ./dist/cookie.token and csrf-token as ./dist/csrf.token if you run the app as node dist. If you choose to do so, note that these tokens will become invalid as soon as you log off on LinkedIn. Example csrf.token and cookie.token boocookie="reallyLongStringWithWeirdCharactersAllInSingleLine.... With LinkedIn Learning (LIL), you can access a growing platform containing 6,000 courses to help you discover and increase your knowledge on business, technology, leadership, teaching, learning, and skills around productivity, communication, interpersonal development. Other advantages are personalized course recommendations based on your interests and the opportunity to earn badges and certifications that can appear on LinkedIn Profiles. Free access to LinkedIn Learning is available to students, faculty and staff through the link below, through this page, and Blackboard. Students can gain new skills to succeed in your courses and career and enrich other areas of particular interest. Faculty and staff can further develop their professional and technical skills and curate videos to supplement the curriculum through the Blackboard integration. Login to LinkedIn Learning Frequently Asked Questions Do I need a LinkedIn profile? You do not need to have a LinkedIn profile to activate your LinkedIn Learning account. You have the option to choose whether or not to connect it to your Learning account. There are added benefits for learners who do make a connection: Enhanced Q&A with course authors & other learners Personalized content and course recommendations to help you stay up-to-date with what other LinkedIn members (with similar job titles and positions) are also learning Ability to launch content directly from your LinkedIn profile Ability to keep your learning history if you leave NECC Ability to add course completions, certificates & newly learned skills to your profile Deepen your learning with LinkedIn Study Groups after completing a course There are some benefits of using your LinkedIn Profile when accessing LIL. How do I get started? After you log in, you will be prompted to answer a few questions about your interests to curate content based on your answers. We recommend to take just a few minutes to watch the How to Use LinkedIn Learning course to get you up and running and learn how to get the most from LinkedIn Learning. What should I do if I already have a LinkedIn Learning account? If you have a private account with LinkedIn Learning, it doesn't impact your account with NECC. You may choose to keep your private account and transfer activity between the accounts or cancel your private account. If you have further questions about this, please see the help center within LinkedIn Learning. What about my privacy and data collection? If you choose to connect your LinkedIn profile, LinkedIn won't share your personal information (such as job search history, connection request, in-mails, and other features) with NECC providing you access to learning. NECC will only have access to your LinkedIn Learning course viewings. The LIL reports provide aggregate user learning activity, such as the content that users are viewing and completing. These reports will only be available to assigned individuals at the institution. What languages are available in LinkedIn Learning? You will find courses available in English, German, Spanish, French, Japanese, Mandarin Chinese, and Brazilian Portuguese. Change the language in your LinkedIn Learning settings if you would like to browse the course library in a different language. To change the language settings of a course, go to LinkedIn Profile to the area about Me / Settings / Content Language. You can also change language in the footer of the LinkedIn Learning page. What is the difference between a learning path and a collection? Learning paths are compiled playlists of related video courses on a specific topic or career track. They include multiple courses by different expert instructors to teach a variety of skills and information associated with that subject or profession. They indicate a specific series of courses and videos taken in sequence. Collections are also a group of courses and videos related to a specific topic, but they do not have a particular order, and do not need to be watched in sequence. Ready, Set, Go! There are many learning paths and courses in LinkedIn Learning to choose from the extensive library. Please take a look at a few suggested courses. Prefer to learn on the go? Download the LinkedIn Learning app on your device for a faster and better way to access an entire library of courses anytime, anywhere. Download the LinkedIn Mobile Apps. Students Time Management Fundamentals (course) Get Ahead in Finding a Job After College (learning path) Develop Your Presentation Skills (learning path) Staff Thriving @ Work: Leveraging the Connection between Well-Being and Productivity (course) Cultivate Balance and Well-Being as Offices Reopen (learning path) Engaging Your Virtual Audience (course) Faculty Diversity, Inclusion, and Belonging for All (learning path) Inclusive Instructional Design (course) Instructional Design: Creating Video Training (course) LinkedIn Learning Support For additional support or training, contact Center for Instructional Technology (CIT) & Center for Professional Development (CPD) to learn how to use LinkedIn Learning. In this post, you will learn 3 different methods to download LinkedIn Learning courses on your PC or Mac. Since all the Lynda courses and instructors have been relocated to LinkedIn Learning, you can use the same way to download Lynda videos. You can download any video that you are watching without additional apps or download all videos from one LinkedIn Learning course in one go for offline viewing. Download LinkedIn Learning Videos with Your Web Browser Only Many Times, I watch LinkedIn Learning courses online. If you are like me, you can easily download any video that you are watching without other third-party tools or extensions. All you need is your web browser Developer Tools. You may have never used it, but it is easy and powerful. Let me show you how to do that step by step. Actually, you can use this method to download videos from many websites online besides LinkedIn. Step 1. Launch your web browser (Firefox is mostly recommended here) and go to the LinkedIn Learning video that you want to download. Of course, you should log in with your LinkedIn account. Step 2. Right-click on any blank space and select Inspect to open Developer Tools. You can also press F12 on Windows or Option+Command+I on macOS. In the Developer Tools, click on the Network tab and select Media as the screenshot below. Step 3. You should be able to see the LinkedIn Learning video MP4 file URLs. If nothing under the Media tab, you can reload this page and play the video. Step 4. Copy URL to a downloader app or simply open it in a new tab to start downloading the LinkedIn Learning video. If you use Chrome, the downloading URLs may not appear even after refresh. In that case, you can click the "All" tab instead of "Media" and sort them by size, largest to the smallest. The video URLs should be at the top results, since videos are usually large in size. There are a few more Developer Tools features that I think everyone should use. Video Downloader Add-on That Works for LinkedIn If I think the Developer Tools method is a little complicated, you can also use a downloader add-on or extension. For that, I recommend Video Downloader Professional for Firefox. Once installed, you can click on the add-on icon at the right top of your Toolbar. From there, you can select video quality to download on your computer. This also allows you to download videos from many other websites besides LinkedIn Learning videos. Download All videos from LinkedIn Learning If you want to download all videos from one LinkedIn Learning course in one go, you can use a program called Allavsoft. It allows you to download videos from LinkedIn Learning, Udemy, YouTube, Spotify, Deezer, and many more in batches. It is available in Windows and macOS. In Settings, you can also select the language of the subtitles in the videos. The program will download your preferred language if available. You can also download the audio only if your prefer and create multiple downloading tasks. You can refer to the steps below to see how it works. Step 1. Download and Install Allavsoft for Windows or macOS based on your situation. Step 2. Copy and paste the LinkedIn Learning course URL. You can also choose the output format of the video if needed. By default, the program will download LinkedIn Learning videos in 1080p MP4 format. Step 3. Click the Download icon to start downloading. Wait a few seconds and, you will be prompted to enter your LinkedIn Learning account to get started. Step 4. Now you can choose to download the first video in the LinkedIn Learning course or all of them. When the file is downloaded, you can right-click and select "Locate Downloaded File" to find it. Of course, you can specify a location to save all the downloaded files. You can also convert the downloaded files to another format. Conclusion These 3 methods have been tested in 2021 for downloading LinkedIn Learning courses. The first 2 methods are totally free. They are a perfect fit when you just want to download one or 2 videos in a course. If you want to download all videos in a course, Allavsoft is recommended. It is a little pricey though. If you consider all the websites that Allavsoft supports, it is worthy.
